International undergraduate students can study English at the Intensive English Program (IEP) at the University of Missouri (MU) AND earn a scholarship toward a bachelor's degree at MU.

Your scholarship will equal the amount of money that you pay to the IEP for tuition and fees for up to five terms (Fall Semester 16 weeks; spring semester 16 weeks; summer term 8 weeks). For spring semester 2020, one semester of tuition and fees costs $6,280. If you studied in the IEP for one year (12 months in 2020), you would pay $16,745.

You would then receive a total scholarship for $16,745. If you studied at MU for four years, the scholarship would be awarded each semester for eight semesters. The amount of the scholarship each semester would be $2,093.

This scholarship is given automatically to any IEP international student who is admitted to an undergraduate degree program at the University of Missouri. You must remain continuously enrolled in the IEP and at MU.

How can you get started? You can apply for admission directly to the IEP, but we recommend that you apply for admission to the University of Missouri first. The University will decide if you can be admitted to a degree program when you finish studying English in the IEP. Then you will be conditionally admitted to MU, and you can study at the IEP. If you apply to the University of Missouri first, you do not need to send another application to the IEP.

All of us at MU and in the IEP are excited about this great opportunity to help international students gain the English skills they need and continue on to earn a valuable degree at the University of Missouri.
